Ottawa, Dec. 10.—Sir Richard Cartwright, senior member of the privy council, after the prime minister, is to be the new leader in the upper house in the state in the succession to Hon. R. W. Scott, ex-secretary of state.

Sir Richard, though somewhat inconvenienced by physical disability, is a man of great ability and experience, and his long experience in public affairs, his intimate knowledge of all the details of the state, and his ability in parliamentary debate, have caused it to lead the Upper House with dignity and tact.

MAKE THE TRAMPS WORK

New York Man Proposes Farm for That Detention.

Albany, Dec. 9.—A state farm for the employment and detention of tramps is proposed by a New York man. Joseph J. Sullivan, a member of the New York State Board of Charities.

Charities Commissioner is of the opinion, if possible, the aid of the Legislature in his efforts to have a State farm established, and the farm should be detailed at the proposed institution for a long period, and to make the institution permanent.

Pending the final establishment of such an institution, he would have the legislature enact a law authorizing the detention of tramps by city or county, almshouse, and that it may do the public offices to the same extent as the state under the provisions of the penal code.

Gerritson, a New York campaigner of such bodies persons as may be found committed to almshouses.

Mr. Sullivan is of the opinion that if his suggestion are carried out he will go far toward the elimination of the tramp, who would rather leave the State than be compelled to work in a state institution.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH FAREWELLS ITS PASTOR

Rev. A. M. Macdonald, Who is Retiring to Accept the Pastorate of Fort Rouge Baptist Church, Winnipeg, Is Made the Subject of Splendid Appreciation at Hands of Edmonton Congregation, Over Whom He Has Presided for 8 Years, the Church Developing in That Time From a Congregation of 18 to its Present Membership of 220.

The flood gates of the memory of the and spoke briefly of the occasion which brought the assembly together. Rev. A. M. Macdonald was born in 1861, and has been pastor of the First Baptist Church, where he was born, for 18 years. The services were opened on Wednesday evening, when 300 members of the congregation and their friends filled the basement of the church to bid farewell to the retiring pastor and Mrs. Macdonald.

The pastor, in his address, gave a brief review of the warning which the congregation had given for Rev. Mr. Macdonald, and the pastor's reply, and all fell on the eye of his departing friends.

The expressions of regard were accompanied by a presentation to serve as a tangible assurance of the warm feelings which shall always find the pastor in the hands of the First Baptist Church, to

SASKATOON STABBING AFFRAY.

Drunken Brawl Results in Serious Injury to Horse Dealer.

Saskatoon, Dec. 9.—In what appears to have been a drunken quarrel between a master named Sparks, a farmer a few miles from town, staked a local horseman in half a dozen places. The affray took place about 7:30 tonight in the Windsor hotel, but the horse dealer was not injured. He had a few words, clinched, and in a final spasm drew a knife and cut the animal in half a dozen places. The worst stab, at least one that he inflicted, was on the belly, and the dealer was cut to the bone.

The dealer was called at once and Sparks was taken to the cells, where he was attended by an infirm man, who will recover, although he lost a large quantity of blood. McEwen is a well known and popular man, and crushed his assailant had been able to get him to the Upper House with dignity and tact.

KAISER AFFLICTED BY SOUL STORMS

He is Unable to Regain His Composure—Receives Chancellor Von Bismarck Cudgy.

Berlin, Dec. 10—According to the Weekly Statistical Review, published by Roland Von Berlin, the Kaiser's health is not so good as it was a week ago, consequent upon the recent trials. It says he is "more or less" unable to regulate his compassions, and that he is unable to control his temper, and that he is not in the mood of his Potemkin state, brooding upon his unpopular policies, and upon his enemies.

The review also says that he is engaged in a reconciliation with his subjects.

His relations with Chancellor von Bismarck, whom he very firmly made, to his own satisfaction, was in town, and knowing that he would deny their report.

In the case of the Wisconsin Central, he made a quick sprint and beat him to the ticks with a report that he was not to be beaten.

The review also says that the Emperor has several hours a day spending unusually conspicuous manfestations of pity.

NOT ACCEPTABLE TO GERMANY

American-German Agreement Is Rejected with Disaffection.

Berlin, Dec. 9—Chancellor von Bismarck's reference to the Japanese-American agreement in his Reichstag speech was received with marked equanimity by the foreign office, through its spokesman, who was asked to say whether the Foreign Office, in the opinion of that country, was satisfied with the Japanese-American agreement.

The Foreign Office, in its statement, cited the fact that Germany had entered into a similar agreement with the United States.

The Germans are of the opinion that the conditions of dissatisfaction which were heard in some quarters after the signing of the agreement, have become clearer—especially in the case of the Japanese.

The Foreign Office, in its statement, said that it guarantees the open door in China.

CANADIAN TEACHERS' TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY

Work Done By the Messy Educational Commission—Canadian Were Feted and Dined By Prominent Educationalists of the Old Land—Educational Work Across the Atlantic.

It seems only proper that before going into the nature and work of this commission something should be said of the trip itself. Mr. Mosley, a successful business man now living in London, admits and is living an office, High Holborn, and though toll paid by English and other American curmurs, were the cause of the trip. Mr. Mosley, a native of the mining centers of South Africa, these good results excited Mr. Mosley, and he, in turn, the Canadian country pursued such level-headed men, that in this he spent some months in Paris, studying the methods and their schools of training. His interest grew and in 1902 he sent from England to the Canadian government, through the Canadian government, to investigate the industrial conditions in the United States. In 1903 Mr. Mosley organized an educational commission to visit the schools of America to investigate the following subjects:

1. The development of individuality in primary schools.

2. The social and intellectual effects of the wide distribution of secondary education.

3. The effect of specific instruction given in business methods and in applied science.

4. The present state of opinion as to the value of professional and technical training, and the methods designed with special reference to the tasks of business life.

The work of this commission included not only teachers of elementary and secondary schools, but also men of high educational work in Great Britain.

Visitors of Canadians Arranged

More than a thousand teachers from Canada and the United States should visit the schools of Great Britain. The work of this commission commenced in September, to be carried on till March, 1909.

Mr. Mosley is well acquainted with the geography of Great Britain, and on his way will have a good time with the rapid progress being made in Edinburgh and in Dublin. This gentleman was ready to give evidence that the Canadian government provided them with boats containing a choice of tour explicitly mapped out, and with maps, guides, and lodgings, travelling and sight seeing.

In every place visited a committee of Canadian visitors who showed them every courtesy and assistance, but left nothing undone to add to the pleasure of the visit.

The hospitality shown the Canadian visitors was boundless and extreme. Receptions were given by chief inspectors, professors, teachers, associations, and the like, and ambassadors. Mrs. Austin Chapman, Lady Bateman, Lady Margaret and many others. Many were mainly entertained in private homes, while in many towns the teachers were invited to historic places by the citizens of the town.

With such help and the pleasure of the visit the work was delightful. Not only did the visitors have opportunity to learn much from actual observation, but also from the criticism of the young teachers from wide separated parts of America, our group might have heard representatives from New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Montreal, Manitoba, Harry, Liverpool, Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds, Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Cork, and Belfast. Some of the more fortunate proceeded to Holland, France or Germany, while the others in the college was opened to inspection and special subjects which would be taught upon request.

English Educational System

As one progressed through England and the United Kingdom it was evident that the educational system was in a degree in a transitional stage, but that the influence of the control of denominations to the control of the county councils. In many places the schools were not only well equipped particularly as to apparatus necessary to the teaching of all branches of knowledge, but were domestic, and provided with perfect ventilation, were to be seen not far distant from the modern school plan and all presented serious drawbacks. The schools were being done in them, just as it was in many instances that in Harry the school board was a school, but in a general way an archaic which had to be made to make a special study of school buildings and make plans for the new schools erected with care to keep the old ones in best repair. The schools were well equipped, but the credit upon the architect and his employers. But perhaps the change most noticeable was the change effected as to the class of teachers engaged. Every effort was being made to get rid of the greater number of trained and pupil teachers, and further to demand highest qualifications in primary teachers. It is a commendable feature that so many men are to be found in the profession, especially in the higher grade schools.

The music seemed to be a great success, and the education of the children of the ages from eleven to fourteen, a four part chorus, or read one at sight in either notation. Drawing shows good results in the higher grades up. But what drew forth most praise was the way the English children heard especially from Americans. They never did anything in that direction. Some small children could get up and give scenes from Dickens' or Shakespeare, the best novelties, and recite from the famous plays. On the other hand, the schools mostly under sixteen years, present plain moral credit.

Our group found the Anticopon excellently performed by the Dubliners. The English, the Scotch, the Irish, and the Scottish, enjoy their solid inheritance of good books. Latin and Greek were taught in every school.

Manual training and domestic sciences are features of elementary and secondary schools, and are widely taught. While a lack of blackboard space was noticed, and made upon the good pictures in the rooms and halls. All kinds of sports were taught in every school.

It may be that the pupil in Britain does not receive the practical training as in America, but their schools are equipped with the best of apparatus.

Teachers' Workmen's Institute

On the other hand, another word, still more or less accomplished, is to improve their work. There are many organizations, trade and labor, which aimed at giving a full knowledge of correct and most modern methods of work. The negotiations are affiliated with the National Union of Teachers. This is the central point between the teachers and the workmen.

The line between Wainwright and Winnipeg, especially on the latter, has been decided to change the bi-weekly to a tri-weekly service. This will be effective January 1st.
